Section 1
An Overview of An Garda Síochána

An Garda Síochána is the national police and security service of Ireland, comprised of approximately 14,000 Garda Members, 3,400 Garda Staff and 350 Garda Reserves. An Garda Síochána is a community-centric organisation with a mission of ‘Keeping People Safe’. With responsibility for both the provision of policing services and protecting the security of the State, An Garda Síochána is driven by the need to deliver responsive, effective and efficient services that meet the needs of our communities.

In order to continue on a path of growth, innovation and continuous improvement, An Garda Síochána is implementing the most wide-ranging programme of reform since its foundation in 1922. This includes cross-organisational projects such as the Garda Operating Model, which has replaced the former District approach to policing with a Divisional model that will ensure every community has the benefit of functional, specialised policing services.

An Garda Síochána is making significant investments in data and technology infrastructure, equipment, training, the provision of health and wellbeing supports for all personnel, and other key strategic supports and enabling functions. An Garda Síochána is also investing heavily in its people by expanding and professionalising our Garda Staff workforce. Garda Staff work in areas such as Finance and Services, Occupational Health and Wellbeing, Data and Technology, Human Resources and People Development, Strategy & Transformation, Legal, Communications, Administration and Management, as well as Specialist Units such as Drugs and Organised Crime, Economic Crime, Cybercrime etc. and operational Regions and Divisions throughout the country working alongside and supporting Garda colleagues to keep people safe. These changes will deliver more efficient working, enhanced service provision and an increased capacity to provide support to communities and victims of crime.

The changing demands and expectations of citizens, the emerging security and policing challenges and the wide ranging reform programme, combined with the introduction of new technology and systems create an urgent demand for continued enhancement of strategies and policies. These enhancements will ensure that our people, whether Garda Members, Garda Staff or Garda Reserves, have the skills, knowledge and expertise to ensure that An Garda Síochána will continue to respond to the ever changing demands of policing, and to keep people safe.

Garda Staff currently recruited to An Garda Síochána are recruited as Civil Servants. On commencement of the forthcoming Policing, Security and Community Safety Act, all newly recruited Garda Staff will be to the Public Service, to a grade with terms and conditions no less favourable than the equivalent Civil Service grade.

An Garda Síochána is a dynamic organisation in which all personnel can enjoy a rewarding and worthwhile career of service to the communities and people of Ireland.

- Agree to undertake the duties attached to the post and accept the conditions under which the duties are, or may be required to be, performed;
- Are fully competent and available to undertake, and fully capable of undertaking, the duties attached to the position.

Appointments from panels

A panel will be established from which an appointment will be made and from which future vacancies may be filled. Qualification and placement on a panel is not a guarantee of appointment to a position.

Please note that once an offer of appointment has been accepted, a candidate will be removed from the panel and no further offers of appointment will be made.

The panel will expire two years from its establishment, unless otherwise extended, or when it has been exhausted, whichever is sooner. Candidates not appointed at the expiry of the panel will have no claim to promotion thereafter because of having been on the panel.
References

Should you come under consideration for a position, 2 references will be sought. We will require a reference from your current employer and ideally another previous employer. A statement of employment is not sufficient and will not be accepted as an employer reference. Your current employer will only be contacted with your consent. The references should provide relatively recent information on your performance and behaviour in a work context.

Deeming of candidature to be withdrawn

Candidates who do not attend for interview when and where required or who do not, when requested, furnish such evidence as required in regard to any matter relevant to their candidature, will have no further claim to consideration.

Declining an offer of appointment

Should the person recommended for appointment decline, or having accepted it, relinquish it, An Garda Síochána HR/Staffline Recruitment Ireland may at its discretion, offer the position to the next candidate on the panel.

Confidentiality

Candidates can expect that all enquiries, applications and all aspects of the proceedings are treated as strictly confidential subject to the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act 2014.

Certain items of information, not specific to any individual, are extracted from computer records for general statistical purposes.

Use of Recording Equipment

An Garda Síochána does not allow the unsanctioned use of any type of recording equipment. This applies to any form of sound recording and any type of still picture or video recording, whether including sound recording or not, and covers any type of device used for these purposes. Any person wishing to use such equipment for any of these purposes must seek written permission in advance. This policy is in place to protect the privacy of staff and customers and the integrity of our assessment material and assessment processes. Unsanctioned use of recording equipment by any person is a breach of this policy. Any candidate involved in such a breach could be disqualified from the competition and could be subject to prosecution under section 55 of the Public Service Management (Recruitment & Appointments) Act, 2004.
Section 7
Important Candidate Information

Code of Practice

The Commission for Public Service Appointments (CPSA) Code of Practice Appointment to Positions in the Civil Service and Public Service applies to this competition and is available to view at www.cpsa.ie.

The CPSA Code of Practice outlines the procedures whereby a candidate may seek a review regarding a decision taken in relation to their application or in relation to allegations of a breach of the Code of Practice.

In accordance with the principles of the above Code of Practice, Staffline Recruitment Ireland is committed to providing clear, specific and meaningful feedback to candidates. In this regard written feedback will be provided to candidates. This will consist of the candidate marks from the competition and comments from the interview board on the candidate's performance, as appropriate.

Contravention of the Code of Practice

Any person who contravenes the above provisions or who assists another person in contravening the above provisions is guilty of an offence. A person who is found guilty of an offence is liable to a fine/or imprisonment.

In addition, if a person found guilty of an offence was, or is a candidate at a recruitment process, they will be disqualified as a candidate and excluded from the process. Where a candidate has been appointed to a post following the recruitment process, they will be removed from that post.

Requests for Feedback

Feedback in relation to the selection process is available on written request. There are no specific timeframes set for the provision of feedback. Please note that the Review Process as set out in the Code of Practice is a separate process with specified timeframes that must be observed. It is not necessary for a candidate to compile a detailed case prior to invoking the appeals mechanism. The timeframe set out in the CPSA Code cannot be extended for any reason including the provision of feedback.

General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and Data Protection Act 2018

Personal data provided by candidates shall only be processed for the purposes specified in this document, and within a clearly defined lawful basis under the (EU) General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) ((EU)2016/679) and the Data Protection Acts 1988/2018.

All necessary measures will be put in place to ensure personal data is kept safe and secure, and only relevant personal data will be processed. Personal data will be retained for no longer than is necessary to achieve the purpose for which it has been obtained.
