Crime Unit.

Supporting Safer Communities

The 10th Garda 'Supporting Safer Communities' Campaign is taking place from Tuesday 25th September to Tuesday 2nd October 2012.

Deputy Commissioner W.I. Rice officially launches the campaign at the Ploughing Championships in Heath Park, New Ross, Co Wexford. During the campaign a National Victim's Forum takes place, as well as an 'Age Card' awareness campaign targeting 3rd level students.

This 'Supporting Safer Communities' campaign primarily focuses on Crime Prevention/Reduction of Burglary, Road Safety and Supporting Victims of Crime.

With these themes in mind, and the college year begun, it is important to consider bicycle security as they are often an easy target for thieves.

When you first get your bicycle there are a number of matters you should attend to:

- Take at least one distinguishing coloured photograph of your bicycle.
- Keep a written record of the make, model and frame number of the bike and any unique features that the bike may have e.g. extra fittings, attachments, markings etc.
- Security mark your bicycle in at least two separate places. Your security mark should be clearly visible and not capable of being easily removed or camouflaged. Consider also advertising the fact that the bike is security marked with an appropriate label/sticker etc.

- Consider insuring your bicycle, either through a separate policy or through your home contents insurance.
- The owners of very valuable bicycles should also consider having an electronic tracking device covertly inserted within the frame.

When at home, your bike should be kept in a secure location out of public view. Avoid leaving your bicycle unattended in your driveway, even for short periods. Garages and sheds are frequently used and these should be kept locked. It is also a good idea to secure your bike within the garage/shed by fixing or locking it to a wall or other immovable object. If keeping it outdoors, secure the bike to an immovable object - do not leave it lying around and un-locked.

When out and about on your bike there are a number of precautions you should take:

- Always lock your bike, even if leaving it for a few brief moments.
- Lock your bike to an immovable object e.g. a metal railing or lamppost. Be aware, if using a lamppost, of the possibility of lifting the locked bicycle over the lamppost.
- Lock your frame and wheels if at all possible.
- Where bicycle parks are available, use them.

- Take all accessories and easily removable objects with you.
- Consider replacing quick release levers with normal nuts and bolts or with special locking nuts and bolts.
- Do not leave / park your bike in isolated, dark or dimly lit places
- Try not to leave / lock your bike in the same place every day.

There are many different types of lock available that can be used for locking your bicycle. When choosing a lock you should consider how much your bicycle is worth, where you will leave it, how long it will be left unattended and the strength and weight of the lock etc. Most bicycles are locked using the following means:

- D locks / U locks
- Cable locks
- Chain and padlocks
- Click locks

Afternoon Tea at Mount Falcon Estate

The first ever joint venture between An Garda Síochána and Age Action, was organised by the Community Liaison Office at Swinford Garda Station, and with the support of Superintendent Colm Fox of Swinford District HQ.

The Afternoon Tea Party was held in the West of Ireland at Mount Falcon Estate on Tuesday 29th May. It was a fun filled afternoon of singing, seanos dancing, and refreshments. There was also entertainment by Sandy Kelly and Tommy Marren of Mid West radio who was MC on the day.

Garda Anne-Marie Duffy said 'that due to the positive feedback and overwhelming support received for the event, it is envisaged that this will become an annual event from now on'.

She went on to say that, '2012 is European year of Active Ageing and Solidarity between Generations so we particularly welcomed the opportunity to bring young and old participants and organisers together this year to help explore the theme, which is the reason the event was organised for May, to celebrate Bealtaine 2012.'

Age Action believe that this year and the next few years are going to be very tough for older people, particularly in the rural areas.

The money raised at the event will be used to fund the Age Action Care and Repair Programme and ongoing events for the older people in the area. Older people in rural areas are becoming very isolated and need the support of the Community Relations Programme to continue to engage and have an involvement with people in their own community.

The Care and Repair Programme enables Age Action volunteers to call to people's houses and carry out small repairs and maintenance for them free of charge. This service can enable someone to stay in their home for as long as possible.

In 2011 13,000 people asked Age Action for help. The Afternoon Tea Party was a celebration of these older people who live a good life and add value to our Society but who may find that they need a little support around the house doing odd jobs, making their house secure, home care, and light repairs to mention just some types of assistance.

To show just how important the Care and Repair Program is; here is John's story, one of the people they helped in January. John is an 87 year old man who was left sitting in the dark because he could not replace his light bulb. He said "when the bulb blew I had no means of putting it back up and I'm waiting to see somebody and I mightn't know them at all. "Excuse me, would you be so kind as to put up the bulb" ... having to ask that I feel very humiliated, it is an awful problem" John rang the helpline and one of the volunteers called to him, replaced his bulb and completed a few other tasks around the house, even arranged to have a volunteer call to cut his grass. This has made a real difference to John's life.

Family Play Day at Castleblayney

Garda Frances Merrick, with the assistance of Garda Eadaoin Campbell, nine female students from Youthreach Castleblayney and their teachers, organised a Family Play Day at Mindszenty Park, Castleblayney on Saturday 30th June 2012. The event was co-ordinated through Monaghan County Council who availed of funding from the Department of Children and Youth Affairs.

The event was mainly advertised through primary and preschools in the area via a colouring competition, resulting in 245 entries and over 150 children and their families participating on the day.

Monaghan Sub-Aqua Club, whose clubhouse adjoins Mindszenty Park and slipway runs through the park to the Gas Lake allowed full access of their facilities and, because of the earlier inclement weather smaller children were facilitated indoors by Youth Reach students with face painting, (pictured below, left) colouring, games, balloon animal making and a tutor from Monaghan Partnership led 'Buntus' games.

On site, Youthreach staff and students cooked and served "Sausage and Chips" followed by lots of cakes and goodies to all in attendance.

Outdoors, assisted by Garda Caroline Doherty, Carrickmacross, Garda Pat Merrick, Castleblayney a soccer tournament, obstacle course, fancy dress, penalty shots, hoola-hoop and skipping competitions and many more activities took place.

Sergeant Mick Bracken, Ballybay drew a large crowd as he donned the 'Red Man' suit (pictured above) and became the target for children keen to try out their skills with the baton following a demonstration in its use.

Castleblayney Fire Brigade came straight from a call-out to Mindszenty Park to give children the opportunity to see the engine, uniforms and have a blast of the siren. Civil Defence members were also on hand to tend to injuries and showcase their work.

Monaghan County Council's anti-litter mascot, Benjamin, (pictured above) was on hand to spread the message that looking after our environment is very important. He took part in all the activities, adding humour to the events.

The Play Day, which was scheduled from 1pm to 3pm, eventually had to be called to a halt at 4.45pm as happy and exhausted families returned home.

National Bike Week 2012

National Bike Week 2012 was held from the 18th to the 24th of June. It was coordinated and funded by Monaghan County Council.

To incorporate National Bike Week into the Garda Schools Programme, Community Garda Frances Merrick at Castleblayney arranged a bike course with primary schools in the Castleblayney area and the Central School, Ballybay. In the larger schools the course was given to fifth class but in the smaller schools first to sixth classes were included.

Practical bike work was carried out with all the schools. Prizes of t-shirts, bags, drink bottles, puncture repair kits, bike reflectors, water and fruit for each school taking part were supplied by Monaghan County Council as part of National Bike Week.

The course consisted of a short discussion on bike safety and rules of the road. This was followed by practical bike work on balance, control and hand signals, which took place in the school yard for the children who brought in their bikes and helmets.

A safe cycling competition was held at the end of each course and prizes presented to the winners. All participants received a certificate of participation in Bikeweek 2012.

A total of 106 children took part in the programme, 93 of those completing the outdoor practical bike work.

There was very good feed back from the principals and teachers at the schools and felt it was a very worthwhile exercise.

Ennis Age Friendly Initiative

The Community Policing Unit attached to Ennis Garda Station, County Clare. Contacted the Coláiste Mhuire Secondary School in September 2011 to enquire if transition year students would be interested in helping with an initiative to make Ennis an Age Friendly Town. The transition year group had decided to take on "Ageism" as their project for the Young Social Innovators Award.

A number of meetings were held to discuss how they could help change the attitudes of individuals and relationships between the old and young within the community on a permanent basis.

Ennis Community Police distributed 300 questionnaires to older people in the Ennis Area and discovered from these questionnaires that the older people did not feel safe crossing the road at certain points in the town and would feel safer if pedestrian crossing times were increased.

In December 2011 a proposal was submitted to Ennis Town Council. An Garda Síochána felt that the most effective way of promoting safety in collaboration with the Town Council, was to erect signs in the town and by lengthening the time period for crossing the road at various junctions for the benefit of the elderly. The sole initiative is to prioritise safety and minimise danger for older people.

Ennis Community Police then held two coffee mornings with the help of local priests and students at Coláiste Mhuire. The initiative was explained to the older people in the community and they all signed up for the loyalty card, grave cleaning and Paired Tasking.

On the 8th February 2012, along with students from Coláiste Mhuire Ennis Community Police attended Dáil Eireann where the students made a presentation in relation to the importance of road safety for the older people within the Ennis Area.

On the 9th February 2012 along with students from Coláiste Mhuire Ennis Community Police attended Dublin Castle where President Higgins spoke in relation to the "European Year for Active Ageing and Solidarity between Generations"

On the 25th April 2012 students from Coláiste Mhuire again attended Dáil Eireann to meet with An Taoiseach Enda Kenny in relation to the Age Initiative and presented him with a loyalty card.

In addition to the proposals, the following initiatives were undertaken by Ennis Community Police and Transition Year Students in Coláiste Mhuire, Ennis:

- Erection of Road Safety signs and increased crossing time at pedestrian lights.
- Paired Tasking - this involves two students visiting an older person on a weekly basis to assist with shopping, tasks or simply accompanying them on a walk outside.
- Graveyard cleaning for those who are unable to tend to the graves of their loved ones.
- Music Playing at community centre every second Monday.
- Loyalty Card which offers discounts of 20% in local coffee shops, taxi companies and hairdressers.

An Garda Síochána hope that this initiative will help change the attitudes of individuals and relationships between the old and young within the community on a permanent basis. With the help of Coláiste Mhuire in piloting this initiative, teamed with the support of An Garda Síochána, we are hopeful that this initiative will enhance the community.

This is the 14th year of the Kerry Garda Youth Achievement Awards and from the beginning Lee Strand Milk has been a loyal and generous supporter and I publicly thank them for that. I want to congratulate all award winners and pay tribute to the parents, teachers and the many voluntary organisations in Kerry which encourage and facilitate young people to undertake such worthwhile work in the community."

Community Policing in Bantry

Garda Damian White has been the Community Garda in Bantry since 2007, and over the years, he has been involved in a variety of projects with the local community.

Bantry Driving Academy was established by Mary Keohane in February 2011. The Academy provides a purpose built facility which is ideal for those who are getting ready for the driving test, or getting more confidence in their driving skills, and also the Academy provides an excellent location for schoolchildren to learn more about Road Safety in a practical way. To celebrate their 1st Anniversary, the Academy launched a Road Safety Poster competition amongst the national schools in the West Cork area, and the winning entry came from Kuba Ratajczak, a pupil in 5th class at Saint Finbarr's Boys National School in Bantry. The prize was a trip to the Academy, where all of his class were given instruction on Road Safety, including Cycle Safety, and Beer Goggles Experience. As part of the day, Garda White gave a talk to the class on Road Safety, and took questions from the students.

As part of his involvement with the community, Garda White visits the local Montessori and Pre Schools in the area, as part of the Garda Schools Programme. On a recent visit to Seskin Montessori and Pre School, Garda White gave worksheets concerning the role of the Garda, and pictures for the children to colour, in the week before his visit. This set the children thinking about the Gardaí, before the actual visit. Garda White spoke about Road Safety, and how the Garda is a friend, and not to be afraid of the Gardaí. The marked patrol car was an attraction on the day, and a visit to see the Garda Station was arranged for June 2012.

As part of National Supported Employment Week, Garda White assisted with the Job Shadow Initiative. This is a national project designed to give people with disabilities an opportunity to shadow a workplace mentor, as they go about their normal working day. Colman O'Riordan, who is originally from Donoughmore, but attends the National Network in Bantry, where he participates in a horticultural course, was chosen to be the participant in the initiative. Colman was fitted out with a Garda uniform, and had a full guided tour of the Garda Station, and he also assisted Garda White while he was giving a tour of the Station to a class from the local Secondary School. Colman thoroughly enjoyed his day, and went home happy after his experience.

Upwards of 400 children and teenagers took part in the event this year and according to Garda McCarthy, "The event is getting bigger and bigger as the years go by. I've heard many stories from days gone by about how big the Blitz used to be and I hope that the current tournament is beginning to size up to those of old".

The Garda Older Persons Association (GOPA), Dún Laoghaire Rathdown County, addresses the needs of older persons regarding policing matters, through enhanced consultation, communication and engagement. Through this association, the Gardaí in Shankill became aware of The Lions Club "MESSAGE IN A BOTTLE" initiative. They have distributed material in the Shankill, Loughlinstown and Ballybrack village areas.
